

4D Group

Introduction to Marine Hull Insurance

Who would benefit?

This course will appeal to all brokers, underwriters (Lloyd's and Companies), underwriting agencies, technicians, broker support, claims staff, P and I clubs, ship managers, marine lawyers, surveyors, and property and casualty staff who need to gain an understanding of transport /marine insurances.

Objective

This course will serve to explain the fundamentals of insurances placed on Marine Hulls (ships).

The course is designed as an introduction only to this large and otherwise complex subject.

On completion, the delegate will be aware of:

- the range of vessels involved
- understand underwriting fundamentals
- aware of risk management techniques.

They will also gain a good understanding of:

- marine insurance as applied to hulls
- identify various risk profiles
- what information an underwriter is searching for
- fuller appreciation of what is involved in Hull insurance.

Content

- An introduction to main aspects of Hull insurance
 - Broad knowledge of the London market
- Theory and practical aspects of Hull insurance
 - Underwriting
 - Risk management

Duration

One day

Pre-requisites

None